

Get ready to fall into autumn! This is a magical time to witness nature's rhythms, the changing light and cooler temperatures trigger huge bird winter migrations. Head to the coast for the best places to see them, not least East Yorkshire's Spurn Point, Portland Bill in Dorset or Blakeney Point in Norfolk.

Autumn's also a great time for storm watching, stargazing and autumn walks, clifftops and coastal paths are never better, adorned with warming amber hues. With October half term just around the corner, layer up, pack up the kids and bikes and head to less-crowded beaches, not forgetting the dog! Delve into rock pools, go crabbing on quays, discover wildlife and habitats in nature reserves, nothing beats one-of-a-kind coastal experiences.

And why not have something to look forward to? Enter our competition to win a three-night break to Seal Bay Resort in West Sussex. Bring friends or family to dance the night away on a Motown Weekender - celebrate the best of soul this season!

Golden sands and goths on the Yorkshire Coast

Get outdoors on Yorkshire's sweeping coastline to find new adventures or simply to relax. Stay inside and uncover dinosaur stories in the Rotunda Museum in Scarborough, explore the Captain Cook Memorial Museum and his famous Endeavour ship in Whitby and if you want to go full-on Dracula, plan a trip to the Whitby Goth Festival, 1-3 November.

If you'd rather explore rugged cliffs, golden sands and a peaceful ambience, Filey offers seaside serenity, look out for purple sandpipers, autumn's also the best time for grey seals, porpoises and even minke whales
